EPOXY SELF-LEVELLERS

touchstone supplies epoxy self levellers for a range of applications including industrial floors, commercial floors and even residential projects. This system has been used effectively for years in industrial applications. Our self-leveling compounds have had over 25 years of development and improvement. In most cases our self-leveling epoxies do not require spike rolling which is a distinct labour saving for the contractor. Providing good preparation and priming is carried out, pinholes and surface imperfections due to the product are now a thing of the past. Its usual role in industrial applications can at last be extended to retail, leisure and other commercial areas due to the improvements in flow, de-aeration and ultimately its superior finish.

Further decorative finishes can be achieved with the application of our epoxy matt coating or our UV block matt coat. We can also offer 30 flake colour options to contrast or colour match. We have over 40 colours in our standard range and further colour options are available on request. Prices are extremely competitive and we are sure you will be amazed at the quality and ease of application of this product.
