KENNELS AND VETERINARIES

touchstone floors ltd have developed flooring solutions that are ideally suited to kennels, veterinaries and other animal care settings. Touchstone particularly recommends two of its products for this type of application, although customised packages can be created to best meet the customer's requirements. Both hard and soft poured floors are available which can be laid against tiled and other skirtings.

FINE QUARTZ RESIN FLOORS touchstone floors ltd are pleased to announce a new and exciting flooring product to our existing portfolio for veterinaries, kennels and other animal husbandry areas. touchstone fine quartz, wet area flooring, is an extremely tough epoxy floor that can be laid with seamless coved skirtings and is capable of withstanding hot cleaning. Coloured quartz sand is mixed with two component epoxy resins and trowelled flat onto a pre-primed floor. The porous sand screed, once cured, is coated with upto four further epoxy top coats and a final matt coat. This seamless and hygienic flooring ensures a waterproof finish that can be laid on most types of flooring including wooden floors.
